WAR ENGAGEMENT

Santa Clara Water Batteries and the Vicksburg and Cutter Morrill Fight.

BAD MARKSMANSHIP SAVED OUR SHIPS.

However Both Are Pitted and Scarred From the Shrapnel Shot of the Enemy.

The Wily Spaniards Arranged a Trap for Our Vessels, and They Walked into It—Fought a Fierce Battle—Then, After a Short Fight, Got Them Out.

Key West, Fla., May 9.—Only poor marksmanship on the part of the Spanish gunners saved the Vicksburg and the cutter Morrill from a certain fate. Havana Saturday morning. For over half an hour they were under the fire of the guns of the Spanish water batteries, but both escaped without material injury, although shrapnel shells from eight inch guns exploded all about them, and both now show the pitted scars of the Spanish bullets.

The wily Spaniards had arranged a trap to send a couple of our ships to the bottom. They baited it with a small schooner. A small schooner was sent out from Havana harbor shortly before daylight Saturday morning to draw some of the Americans into the ambush. The race worked like a charm. The Vicksburg and the Morrill in the heat of the chase and in their contempt for Spanish gunners walked into the trap that had been set for them. Had the Spaniards possessed their souls in patience but five minutes longer not even the Spanish gun practices would have saved our ships, and today morning two more of our vessels would lie at the bottom with two lengths of the wreck of the ill-starred Maine.

Friday evening the Vicksburg and the Morrill, cruising to the westward, saw the Spanish schooner bound for Havana, and towed the prize to Key West. On Friday the French school ship Eubourdon, carrying 30 guns in all, entered the harbor of Havana. She was stopped by the Morrill, and two shots were fired by the Annapolis before she showed her flag.

OFFICIAL REPORT

Commodore Dewey Sends An Account of the Engagement at Manila.

SPANISH SHIPS WERE DESTROYED

One Hundred and Fifty of the Enemy Were Killed and Many More Badly Wounded.

Our Ships Were Not Injured and Not An American Was Killed—The President's Congratulations—Dewey's Action Admirable.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Notwithstanding the fact that everybody for several days past has been in momentary expectation of cable dispatches from Commodore Dewey, the town was thrown into the wildest excitement at breakfast time Saturday morning by the issue of extra papers announcing the arrival of the McCulloch at Hong Kong with dispatches for the government from Commodore Dewey. The publication of newspaper dispatches telling of terrible mortals among the Spaniards and the destruction of their forces, men and ships, from serious injury added to the excitement and to the intense satisfaction with which the long expected news was received.

VICE ADMIRAL MONTEJO. (The Spanish Commander Who Surrendered.)

There was an instant rush of newspaper men to the navy department to secure further information from official sources, and perhaps dismayed by the number and clamor of the newspaper contingent, the officials of the navigation bureau, where cipher dispatches are transcribed and translated, promptly closed and locked their doors against invasion. One of the officers of the bureau had been on duty for several weeks past waiting to receive cablegrams of importance.

Secretary Long at 10:30 o'clock read the following to newspaper men as Dewey's dispatch:

MANILA, May 1.—The squadron arrived at Manila at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Immediately engaged the enemy and destroyed the following Spanish vessels: Reina Christina, Castilla, Ulloa, Isla de Cuba, General Lezo, Duero, Correo, Velasco, Mindanao, one transport and the water battery at Cavite. The squadron lost no men and only a few men were slightly wounded. The only means of telegraphing is to the American consul at Hong Kong. I shall communicate with him.

It is said at the navy department that the Spanish fleet, which was not sufficient to make a landing but that in no way inferior to the complete control he exercised over the city and its fortifications.

Shortly before noon Secretary Long had received a dispatch from the house and an official confirmation was made that a second dispatch from Commodore Dewey had been received. The secretary carried this with him to the white house, and peering the conference with the president there was intense eagerness among the waiting crowd to learn the contents of the second dispatch. Senators who saw the president's secretary brief intimation that Dewey's victory was overwhelming and that he had a large number of Spanish prisoners in his possession. At 12:30 Secretary Long came from the president's private room, carrying the copy of the second message from Dewey, but in great crowd of people waiting to gain information he held it until he reached his private office. Then his secretary, Mr. Finney, brought the message to the large reception room where a hundred reporters and other correspondents and curious observers took the dispatch as Mr. Finney read it. It was as follows:

Cavite, May 4, 1898. "LORD, Secretary Navy: I have taken possession of the naval station at Cavite, Philippines. The Spanish fleet destroyed fortifications at the bay entrance, paralyzing the garrison. I control the bay completely and can make the city at any time. The squadron in excellent health and spirits. The Spanish fleet not fully known, but very heavy; 150 killed, including the captain of the Reina Christina. I am assisting the Spanish forces who are being wounded. Two hundred and fifty sick and wounded in hospitals within our lines. Much excitement at Manila. Will protect foreign residents."

As the last word of the dispatch was uttered, a cheer of the reporters, cheering Senator Hanna, called for three cheers for Dewey. They were given with a will, and the usual official report of the navy department of the incident was broken by a round of

CONDENSED NEWS.

WASHERMAN, May 9.—By direction of the navy department, Long secretary of the navy, has received the following cable dispatch to Commodore Dewey: Washington, May 7.—Dewey, Manila: The president, in the name of the American people, thanks you and your officers and men for your splendid achievement and overwhelming victory. The recognition he has appointed you acting admiral, and will recommend a vote of thanks to you by congress. (Signed) Long.

Secretary Alger said after the cabinet meeting that he hoped to send 10,000 troops to Manila to sail from San Francisco in a few days. Mr. Miles says that he can send as high as 10,000 men. If so many are sent, to Commodore Dewey, if the troops were sent as soon as they can be gotten transported.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The department has been informed by the completeness of Commodore Dewey's victory. The officials, until they got that news, did not feel the least possibility of our not suffering the loss of any men. It seemed an impossibility. The official report is very clear, however, Commander Dewey, saying that only a few of his men were hurt.

Not less remarkable than this was the fact that our vessels escaped injury. Our fleet smashed into the Spanish fleet and with such impunity did not hit the boat, but our gunners were turned on her and tore her pieces. She went to the bottom with all her crew. Several vessels of the Spanish fleet were in the same way and shared her fate.

"The Spaniards had fought to their last gasp," said a dispatch from Manila. It had been announcing that the Americans would kill every one in Cavite. The Spaniards had been in the process of procuring and stowing away on the boat from the Petrel and Legation our men not to injure the wounded. The Spaniards had been in the process of procuring and stowing away on the boat from the Petrel and Legation our men not to injure the wounded.

LONDON, May 9.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Chronicle writes: "Manila is helpless and surrounded by the insurgents. The blockade is effective. The Americans have captured the island and Commodore Dewey has exercised consummate judgment and rare ability in his operations. The Spaniards are being driven to sea and to the Spaniards."

The Times says: "The destruction of the Spanish fleet was complete, as complete as any achievement recorded in naval annals. Commodore Dewey has shown himself a worthy successor of the great traditions of the United States navy and of his kinship with the race that produced Nelson."

"Commodore Dewey has evidently taken his model for dispatch writing from the English letters of the day. A memorandum which reported a decisive naval victory thus: 'Engaged enemy yesterday. Captured ships as per margin.'"
